Name: ________________________________________________________________

Student Number: ________________________________

Please write out the Library URL here: ______________________________________

Please write out the keywords you will be using to find the requested information below:

eg. “habitat fragmentation” OR “urban sprawl”

__________________________________________________________________________

1) Using Primo, find any e-book and open it to the first chapter. Record the following information:
   a. Book title: _____________________________________________________________
   b. Title of the first chapter: ______________________________________________

2) Using Primo, find any print book and determine the approximate location of the book on the shelf. Record the following information:
   a. Book title: _____________________________________________________________
   b. Call number: __________________________________________________________
   c. Floor: __________________________________________________________________

3) Using Web of Science or BIOSIS database, find any journal article and open the full-text or PDF version. Record the following information:
   a. Article title: _____________________________________________________________
   b. First author: ____________________________________________________________
   c. Journal title: ____________________________________________________________

4) Find the full-text or PDF version of this article:

Record the following information:

a. What is the DOI? __________________________________________________________________________

b. Are they any supplementary files associated with this article? YES  NO

c. What are the keywords for this article?

______________________________________________________________________________________

5) What’s the most important thing you learned today?

6) What are you still confused about?

Debbie Chaves, Science Librarian, dchaves@wlu.ca